SUMMARY

Penza Air Force Depot Leonidovka is located on the Penza-Chaadayevka rail line, 21 kilometers (km) southeast of Penza and 1.3 km due south of Leonidovka (Figure 1).

The depot covers approximately 1,000 acres and consists of a rail- and road-served ammunition storage area (probably double-fenced with a perimeter security road between the fence lines), an administration/barracks area, a motor pool, and miscellaneous support facilities (Figures 2 and 3).

Examination of an air target mosaic compiled from [REDACTED] photography and comparison of KEYHOLE missions from [REDACTED] indicate that the installation has remained relatively unchanged since World War II.
